

QUIZ

"BLOODBORNE PATHOGENS IN COMMERCIAL AND LIGHT INDUSTRIAL FACILITIES"

Employee Name: _____

Training Date: _____

1. True or False?... People who contract HIV are at risk of developing the Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome ("AIDS").
 True False
2. True or False?... People infected with the HIV virus usually show physical symptoms almost immediately.
 True False
3. True or False?... Vaccines do exist that can prevent infection from Hepatitis C and HIV.
 True False
4. True or False?... OSHA's Bloodborne Pathogens Standard requires your facility to create an Exposure Control Plan to help prevent employees from being infected on the job.
 True False
5. True or False?... "Standard Precautions" require that all human blood and other body substances be tested to determine whether they contain bloodborne pathogens.
 True False
6. True or False?... All types of gloves can be reused after an exposure incident if they are decontaminated.
 True False
7. True or False?... For the Hepatitis B vaccine to prevent infection, it must always be given before a person is exposed to the Hepatitis B virus.
 True False
8. True or False?... Vaccination can help to prevent exposure to bloodborne pathogens.
 True False
9. True or False?... Surfaces and equipment that may have been contaminated with blood or potentially infectious materials must be cleaned as soon as possible.
 True False
10. True or False?... If an employee requires a Hepatitis B vaccination after an exposure to contaminated materials, the cost of the vaccination must be paid by the employee themselves.
 True False